NOTABLES

Voluminous VeteransLady Lions return nine letterwinners from 2015-16, along with Moore

The Lady Lions will return a host of players with on-court experience, as nine letterwinners from the 2015-16 season are back, along with the return of Sierra Moore, who missed last season due to injury.

Among the group are five players with 30 or more starts and two more with starting experience. Kaliyah Mitchell (53 starts), Lindsey Spann (43), Peyton Whitted (38), Teniya Page (31) and Sierra Moore (30) all have 30 or more starts. Ashanti Thomas (5) has also garnered starting time in her career.

Letterwinners returning include sophomores Leah Knizner, Sarah McMurtry and Jaylen Williams. Redshirt-freshman Amari Carter played one game last season before suffering a season-ending injury and will be ready to contribute at the start of the 2016-17 campaign.

New FacesTrio of newcomers primed for court time in 2016-17

The 2016-17 season will bring a trio of new faces to the court for Penn State, with the addition of true freshmen Siyeh Frazier and Jaida Travascio-Green, and transfer student-athlete De'Janae Boykin.

Frazier, a native of Detroit, Michigan, was a finalist for Michigan Miss Basketball and two-time first team All-State selection. A 1,000-point scorer in her career, she averaged over 20 points during her junior and senior seasons.

A Lisle, Illinois, native, Travascio-Green ended her prep career with 1,597 points and was the 2016 Illinois High School high jump champion in track and field. She earned first team All-State honors from the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association as a senior after averaging 18 points and seven rebounds per game.

Boykin was the No. 23 ranked prospect in the class of 2015 according to ESPN/Hoopgurlz and was a McDonald's High School All-America selection. She ended her career with 1,225 points and 659 rebounds, missing most of her senior season due to injury. A mid-year transfer from the University of Connecticut, Boykin will be eligible to play following the fall semester.

Young & ReadyNine of 13 student-athletes are either sophomore or freshmen

Head coach Coquese Washington will see nine student-athletes return for the 2016-17 season, with four newcomers added to the mix. This group will be a young - five sophomores, two redshirt freshmen and two true freshmen - yet possess the talent to have an impact on the floor.

Three of the five underclassmen logged at least 29 games worth of court time last season. Sophomore Teniya Page is the most experienced of the group, with 31 starts already under her belt, while Ashanti Thomas and Jaylen Williams saw time in 31 and 29 games, respectively, during their rookie seasons in 2015-16. Even walk-ons Leah Knizner and Sarah McMurtry saw time on the floor in their first seasons with the Lady Lions, as Knizner played in 19 games and McMurtry saw action in eight.

Added to the mix are redshirt-freshmen De'Janae Boykin and Amari Carter. Boykin transferred prior to the spring semester from the University of Connecticut after a highly decorated prep career that included a host of international experience and three gold medals in international competition. Lady Lions fans got a glimpse of Carter's abilities last season, as she played five minutes vs. Holy Cross in the season opener before suffering a season-ending injury at the end of the first quarter. She hit a 3-pointer and had one rebound before leaving the contest.

Strong in the Scoring ColumnFour of Penn State's top five scorers return

For just the seventh time in 51 seasons of women's basketball at Penn State, five players average 9.0 points per game or better for a season in 2015-16. The Lady Lions will return four of those five players, along with Sierra Moore's 12.1 points-per-game from 2014-15.

The quartet of Teniya Page (15.3 ppg), Lindsey Spann (13.0), Kaliyah Mitchell (9.5) and Peyton Whitted (9.0) all return, with only the graduated Brianna Banks (13.4) leaving the fold.

As a team, Penn State averaged 70.1 points per game last season and shot 41.6 percent from the field.

Next to 900

Penn State looks to become 16th NCAA Division I program to 900 wins

With one more victory, Penn State will become the 16th NCAA Division I program to reach the 900-win plateau. The Lady Lions are one of four Big Ten teams ranked among the top-20 on the all-time wins list, the most by any conference in the NCAA.

Freebies Falling

Spann, Mitchell each sit among PSU's all-time best free throw shooters

It can make or break a game, yet can be one of the most mentally tough things for a player, but senior Kaliyah Mitchell and junior Lindsey Spann each sit among the top-20 in career free throw percentage entering the 2016-17 season.

Mitchell sat No. 4 in the Big Ten last season with a 85.4 free throw clip, making 19 straight free throws early in the season, including a 6-of-6 effort vs. BYU.

For her career, Mitchell is a 76.8 percent shooter from the charity stripe, making 208-of-271 free throws to rank No. 20 on the all-time list at Penn State.

In two seasons, sophomore Lindsey Spann has moved her named into the discussion as one of the top free throw shooters in school history. Her 78.4 clip (116-of-148) ranks No. 16 on the career list.

In 2015-16, her 87.7 free throw percentage (57-of-65) in 2015-16 is tied for No. 8 on the single season charts with Jess Strom's 71-of-81 effort in 2002-03.

Long Range Lindsey

Spann becomes 14th Lady Lion with 100-plus triples

In just her two seasons on the hardwood, Lindsey Spann ascended into the upper echelon of the single season and career charts for 3-point shooting at Penn State.

Her 102 career makes from 3-point range make her just the 14th player in Penn State history to hit the century mark from distance. She is currently 12 shy of passing Lynn Dougherty (113, 1989-92) for 13th on the career list.

Spann's 65 makes from long range last season tied with Kelly Mazzante (2000-01) for the No. 11 on the single season charts. She connected on at least two 3-pointers in six straight games from Jan. 10 - Jan. 27, before going 0-for-3 against Purdue (1/30).

Spann also wrote her name onto the single game chart, hitting seven 3-pointers at Minnesota. That total sits tied for No. 4 on the Lady Lion single game charts.

Saving Possessions

Penn State limited the turnovers last season

In 2015-16, Penn State averaged just 14.5 turnovers per contest, becoming just the fifth Lady Lion squad to ever averaged less than 15.0 turnovers per game.

The 2003-04 squad averaged a school-record 13.1 turnovers per game, while the 2004-05 (13.8), 2002-03 (13.9) and 2011-12 (14.4) squads the only other teams to average less than 15.0 turnovers per game.

Penn State had eight games with 10 or fewer turnovers in 2015-16, its most since the 2003-04 team accomplished that nine times.

On the single game list, Penn State's six turnovers at Nebraska (2/2/16) are tied for the lowest single game total since at least 1990-91 and fewest in a game since March 20, 2005 (vs. Liberty).

Walk-ons Working

Knizner & McMurtry saw time on the floor in 2015-16

Freshmen Leah Knizner and Sarah McMurtry each joined the Lady Lion program in October as walk-ons and both saw their fair share of action in 2015-16.

Due to injuries, Knizner became a main part of the bench for Penn State, seeing action in 19 games, including 15 Big Ten contests. McMurtry appeared in eight games - five in B1G play - and connected on her lone points of the season with a 3-pointer vs. No. 5/5 Maryland.

Painting It Pink

Pink Zone raises $220,000 in 2015-16

Penn State was the first team in the NCAA to don pink uniforms - debuting their pink threads on Feb. 4, 2007 against Wisconsin at the Bryce Jordan Center.

Since starting the trend that has spread nation-wide, from high school to the professional ranks, Penn State has held 10 Pink Zone games and raised $1.6 million to benefit Pennsylvania Pink Zone and its beneficiaries.

The event began in 2007 with $20,490 raised and 31 cancer survivors in attendance and has grown into an event that annually raises $200,000 and welcomes more than 600 cancer survivors.

The Lady Lion program has been honored as the Play 4 Kay Division I initiative winner twice in program history, winning the award in back-to-back seasons (2013, 2014).

Finding 500

Mitchell moving up, Whitted looking to join 500-rebound club

The rebounding charts will see some reshuffling in 2016-17, as seniors Kaliyah Mitchell and Peyton Whitted are set to move up or into the top-30 in school history.

Mitchell became the 32nd member of the 500-rebound club with her five caroms vs. Illinois in the Big Ten Tournament last season. She ended the year ranked No. 31 on the all-time charts with 509.

Whitted is primed to become the 33rd member of the 500-rebound club, needing just 34 boards to reach the mark. Whitted's 256 rebounds from last season rank No. 21 on the single season Penn State charts and her 8.3 rebounds per game ranked No. 7 in the Big Ten.

With average seasons on the boards, both Mitchell and Whitted have the chance to move into the top-20 in school history, needing to reach the 645 rebounds by Maren Walseth (1998-01), who currently ranks No. 19 on the rebound charts.

Two with 30

Page, Spann become second set of teammates with 30-point games

Last season, Lindsey Spann and Teniya Page did something that has only happened once in the storied history of Penn State women's basketball. The duo each recorded a 30-point game during the season.

While the Lady Lions have seen a fair share of 30-point games - 64 in all - only Maren Walseth and Lisa Shepard (1999-2000) recorded 30-point games in the same season before Page and Spann.

Spann netted her 30-point effort hitting 30 points on the head at Minnesota on Jan. 3, while Page poured in 31 points in an impressive effort against Michigan on Jan. 17.

For Page, she joined an exclusive group, becoming just the fifth Penn State freshman with a 30-point game in program history. She joined Jen Bednarek (1976-77), Tyra Grant (2006-07), Kelly Mazzante (2000-01) and Susan Robinson (1988-89) in the club.

Deep Threat

Penn State finished No. 12 in school history in 3-pointers made

The old-fashioned 3-point play is still a great way to maximize your scoring, but knocking down a shot from beyond the arch is another way to get the crowd energized and Penn State did that in 2015-16.

The 152 Lady Lion 3-pointers in 2015-16 more than doubled its total from the 2014-15 campaign (74) and finished No. 12 on the school's single season charts.

As a team, Penn State shot .336 from long distance in 2015-16 and saw three players with 20-plus 3-pointers made.

All-B1G Duo Returns

B1G coaches honored by Page and Spann in 2015-16

When an opposing coach picks you out as one of the best in the conference it is an honor that holds water as the next season approaches, and Penn State returns two guards that earned All-Big Ten honors from the conference's coaches last season.

Of the 19 returning All-Big Ten performers from last season, Penn State is one of just two teams that return two all-conference guards (Michigan State) and one of six teams returning multiple All-B1G performers.

150 for Washington

Washington moves past the 150-win plateau

Head coach Coquese Washington won her 150th career game on Sunday, Nov. 15, 2015 vs. Fordham with a 75-59 victory at the Bryce Jordan Center.

Washington needed just two victories to reach the mark entering last season and claimed victories over Holy Cross and Fordham to reach the milestone.

She has started each of her nine seasons at the helm of the Lady Lions with a victory, including eight of nine seasons with two wins. Her season-opening win over Holy Cross helped her remain unbeaten in home openers, as well.

B1G Highlights

Penn State owns a winning conference record against nine of 13 teams

Penn State enters its 25th season as a member of the Big Ten Conference in 2016-17 and has enjoyed immense success since becoming a member of the storied conference in 1992-93.

The Lady Lions own an all-time mark of 253-145 in Big Ten play, with marks of 148-52 at home and 105-93 on the road.

Penn State’s eight regular season championships since 1992-93 are the most won by any Big Ten team during that span. Ohio State (7) and Purdue (6) are next on the list. The Lady Lions also own a pair of Big Ten Tournament titles, winning in 1995 and 1996.

Three In the League

Three Lady Lion alums suited up for WNBA teams in 2015-16

The success of Penn State’s student-athletes don’t end at the collegiate level, as three Lady Lion alums spent the 2016 season on WNBA rosters. Alex Bentley, Maggie Lucas and Tanisha Wright were each among the professional ranks throughout the season.

Bentley continued to put her name atop of most productive players in the association, averaging 12.9 points and 2.5 assists per game for the Connecticut Sun in 34 games.

Lucas missed all but four games in 2016 due to an injury (knee), but was averaging a career-best 7.8 points and 2.8 rebounds per game in her four appearances for the Indiana Fever.

Wright helped lead the New York Liberty to the third-best record in the WNBA as she completed her 12th season in the association. She ranks No. 13 all-time in assists with 1,231 helpers, to go along with 3,036 points.

NITTANY LION LEGEND

CHOSN BY THE STUDNT BODY IN 1906, PENN STATE'S ORIGINAL ATHLETIC SYMBOL WAS THE MOUNTAIN LION WHICH ROAMED CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA. SINCE PENN STATE IS LOCATED IN THE NITTANY VALLEY AT THE FOOT OF MOUNT NITTANY, THE LION WAS DESIGNATED AS A NITTANY LION. IN REGIONAL FOLKLORE, NITTANY (OR NITANEE) WAS A VALOROUS INDIAN PRINCESS IN WHOSE HONOR THE GREAT SPIRIT CAUSED MOUNT NITTANY TO BE FORMED.

FROM THE ICONIC BLUE AND WHITE TO THE LION SHRINE

PENN STATE'S LION SHRINE WAS DEDICATED ON OCT. 24, 1942, DURING HOMECOMING WEEKEND. THE 13-TON BLOCK OF INDIANA LIMESTONE WAS MOLDED INTO THE MOST RECOGNIZABLE SYMBOL OF PENN STATE. A GIFT OF THE CLASS OF 1940, IT RESTS IN A NATURAL SETTING OF TREES NEAR RECREATION BUILDING. THE LION SHRINE IS THE SECOND MOST PHOTOGRAPHED LANDMARK IN THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THE LION SHRINE

WE ARE...

PENN STATE'S STUDENT-ATHLETES ARE INSTANTLY IDENTIFIED BY THEIR BLUE & WHITE UNIFORMS — BUT THOSE WEREN'T THE ORIGINAL SCHOOL COLORS. IN OCTOBER 1887, THE STUDENT BODY UNANIMOUSLY CHOSE DARK PINK & BLACK. AFTER THE PINK FADED TO WHITE ON MANY OF THE UNIFORMS, THE STUDENTS OPTED FOR BLUE, RATHER THAN BLACK, AND WHITE AS THE OFFICIAL SCHOOL COLORS. THE ICONIC BLUE & WHITE BECAME OFFICIAL ON MARCH 18, 1890.

COQUESE WASHINGTON

Head Coach • 10th Season
Flint, Mich.

B.A. in History • Notre Dame '92

Juris Doctorate • Notre Dame Law School '97

Upon arriving on the University Park campus as the fifth head coach in Penn State women's history - and first female African-American head coach in Penn State history - Coquese Washington quickly returned the program to national prominence with her up-tempo, aggressive style of play. Entering her 10th season on the sideline in Happy Valley, her passion for creating a winning culture, predicated on innovative coaching techniques, tireless recruiting, cultivating meaningful relationships with student-athletes and an unmatched enthusiasm for teaching the game she loves, Washington is in the conversation as one of the nation's top head coaches.

Washington has seen success at every level of basketball and in every role she has filled on the sidelines. She became the first player at Flint Central High School to earn a starting position all four seasons and helped her squad to the program's first Saginaw Valley League and district championships, while earning all-state honors on two occasions.

She went on to earn four varsity letters at the University of Notre Dame, leading the team in steals four times and assists on three occasions, before moving on to professional basketball where she was a member of the 2000 WNBA Champion Houston Comets squad.

On the sidelines, she has appeared in the postseason 13 times, with 12 of those being NCAA Tournament appearances. She helped the Lady Lions to four straight berths in the NCAA Tournament - including a pair of Sweet Sixteen appearances - and was an assistant coach on Notre Dame's 2001 NCAA National Championship team. Her three straight Big Ten Championships make her one of just four coaches in Big Ten history with three-or-more consecutive Big Ten regular season championships

(Jim Foster, Ohio State; C. Vivian Stringer, Iowa & Tara VanDerveer, Ohio State), taking home outright crowns in 2012 and 2013, while sharing the 2014 title.

Growing the Game

The professionals that are most successful often share one trait; they are thinkers, and Washington is no different. As a student-athlete at Notre Dame, Washington earned her degree in just three years. After her collegiate career was complete, Washington went on to earn her Juris Doctorate from her alma mater, while simultaneously playing in the professional ranks for the American Basketball League's (ABL) Portland Power. Her passion for learning is matched only by her love of family and basketball.

Washington has served on the WBCA Board of Directors since becoming Penn State's head coach, currently holding the role of President with the organization that is tasked with solving issues, preserving the history and growing the game of women’s basketball. She was also the Vice President/President-Elect from 2013-15.

Her service to the game also includes time with USA Basketball, the Kay Yow Cancer Fund and the NCAA Women’s Basketball Issues Committee. She won a gold medal with Team USA in Kazan, Russia at the 2013 World University Games and served on the USA Basketball Women’s Junior National Committee from 2009-12. Her work with the Kay Yow Cancer Fund Board of Directors ran from 2012-15 and she served five years on the NCAA Women’s Basketball Issues Committee.

Of her many accomplishments, Washington was the founding President of the WNBA Players Association in 1999 and was a primary force in negotiating the association’s first two collective bargaining agreements.

Recruiting Premier Talent

The recruiting trail has always been a place of success for Washington, with the Lady Lions signing four top-25 recruiting classes - including three top-15 classes - since her arrival In Happy Valley. Her top-25 recruiting classes have included a pair of 14th-ranked classes (2009, 2013), one that sat at No. 15 (2015) and one that came in 22nd nationally (2010).

Prior to Washington’s arrival, Penn State had only signed one McDonald’s All-American in program history, but the seasoned recruiter has brought six to campus in her nine years as head coach. Candice Agee (2012), Brianna Banks (2011), De’Janae Boykin (2015), Maggie Lucas (2010), Sierra Moore (2012) and Dara Taylor (2009) have all donned the McDonald’s All-American uniform before matriculating to the University Park campus.

Led by the All-American duo of Indiana native Alex Bentley and Lone Star State product Nikki Greene, Washington’s 2009 class also included all-state performers Gizelle Studevent (California) and Marissa Wolfe (Pennsylvania), along with transfer Mia Nickson (Virginia), who was a top-100 recruit coming out of high school in 2008. In 2010, Washington landed a pair of Pennsylvania’s top players in shooting guard Maggie Lucas and forward Talia East, while the three-person class was boosted by New York wing and WBCA High School All-American Arielle Edwards.

In 2013, Washington and her staff inked a seven-person class that included four ESPN HoopGurlz Top-100 players, including the Georgia duo of Kaliyah Mitchell and Peyton Whitted, and Maryland guard Lindsey Spann. The 2013 class was also bolstered by the addition of Duke transfer Sierra Moore, who was a top-50 national recruit in the class of 2012.

A pair of five-star guards in Chicago native Teniya Page and Maryland product Amari Carter led the way for the class of 2015. Adding to a strong recruiting haul was the highly recruited post pair of Kentucky’s Ashanti Thomas and Boston-area product Jaylen Williams.

Washington came to Happy Valley after eight seasons as an associate head coach and assistant coach under Muffet McGraw at Notre Dame, her alma mater. One of the top recruiters in the country, Washington was instrumental in helping the Irish secure eight consecutive top-25 recruiting classes, a feat only accomplished by two other programs in the country (Connecticut and Tennessee).

WNBA: Pioneer and Pupils

A pioneer in advancing the WNBA both on and off the court, Washington continues to supply the league with top notch talent, including six Penn Staters play in the world’s most competitive professional league.

Alex Bentley and Maggie Lucas are two of Washington’s pupils succeeding on the grand stage, with Bentley playing in the WNBA Finals as a rookie and earning WNBA All-Star status in 2015. Lucas also competed in the WNBA Finals, helping the Indiana Fever to the WNBA Championship series against the Minnesota Lynx during the 2015 season.

In 2014, Lucas was selected with the 21st overall pick (second round) by the Phoenix Mercury, then was traded to the Indiana Fever during training camp. In her third year as a professional, Lucas saw her court time increase each season, before suffering a season-ending injury in the fourth game of the 2016 campaign. Also in 2014, Ariel Edwards inked a free agent contract with the Tulsa Shock.

In 2013, for the third time in program history, the Lady Lion program saw a pair of student-athletes selected in the WNBA Draft. Alex Bentley went 13th overall to the Atlanta Dream and Nikki Greene was selected 26th overall by the Phoenix Mercury. Bentley has found a home with the Connecticut Sun after competing one season for the Atlanta Dream, and playing in the WNBA Finals that year. A WNBA All-Rookie selection in 2013, she was among the MVP candidates in 2015 before missing the final nine games of the season with an injury.

Greene played two years in the league, suiting up for the Los Angeles Sparks in 2014 before teaming up with Bentley in Connecticut during the 2015 season.

Tyra Grant capped off her career by being selected by the Phoenix Mercury in the second round of the 2010 WNBA Draft, and Washington was also instrumental in helping Kam Gissendanner sign a free agent contract with the WNBA's Los Angeles Sparks following in the 2008 campaign. Ariel Edwards and Zhaque Gray have also signed free agent contracts with WNBA teams, inking deals with the Tulsa Shock and Chicago Sky, respectively, in 2014.

During her time at Notre Dame, Washington saw seven players earn roster spots on WNBA teams.

Dancing Shoes

In 17 years as a collegiate coach, Washington has laced up her dancing shoes and headed to the postseason on 13 occasions, including 12 trips of the NCAA Tournament. While coaching the Blue and White, Washington has guided the program to four NCAA Tournament berths and one appearance in the WNIT.

From 2011-14, the Lady Lions advanced to the NCAA Tournament each season, reaching at least the second round on all four occasions. The 2012 and 2014 squads moved on to the Sweet Sixteen with a pair of postseason wins, before falling to top-five ranked opponents.

In their fourth straight NCAA Tournament appearance, the 2014 squad hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament inside the Bryce Jordan Center for the 14th time in school history. Wins over Wichita State in the opening round and a 22-point rout of Florida in the second round sent the program to its 13th Sweet Sixteen. A date with No. 5/6 Stanford awaited in Palo Alto, as the No. 3 seed Lady Lions fell to the No. 2 seed Cardinal at Maples Pavilion to close out a 24-8 campaign, which included a Big Ten regular season title.

In 2013, Penn State again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament with a win over Cal Poly in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The 26-6 campaign ended with a loss to LSU on their home court. Lady Lions advanced to the 2012 Sweet Sixteen with wins over UTEP and LSU in Baton Rouge before falling to No. 3/3 Connecticut en route to a 26-7 overall record.

The Lady Lions worked their way back to the "Big Dance" for the first time since 2004-05 and advanced to the second round for the first time in seven years with a win over Dayton in the first round of the 2012 NCAA Tournament in front of a raucous Bryce Jordan Center crowd. Washington's first appearances in the tournament as a head coach started with a 75-66 win over Dayton.

Washington's first taste of postseason play as a head coach came against Hofstra in the 2010 WNIT. The Lady Lions hosted the contest on the University Park campus, but the Pride got the best of a young Lady Lions squad in the opening round.

During Washington's eight years on the bench, Notre Dame reached the NCAA Tournament each season, including four Sweet Sixteen runs and the 2001 National Championship.

Trophies & All-Americans

Washington’s competitive side shines brightest on the biggest stages and that is a trait that her teams have taken on as well during her tenure on the University Park campus. Washington’s teams have advanced out of the first round of the NCAA Tournament in all four of their trips, while earning berths in the Sweet Sixteen twice.

From 2012-14, the Lady Lions claimed three straight Big Ten regular season titles, making them one of just four teams in conference history to win three-or-more regular season titles in a row. Washington’s squads took the title outright in 2012 and 2013, while sharing the crown in 2014.

Washington is a three-time Big Ten Coach of the Year (2012, 2013 & 2014), a two-time WBCA Region Six Coach of the Year (2012 & 2013) and two-time finalist for WBCA National Coach of the Year (2012 & 2013). She was also selected as the 2011 and 2014 Black Coaches Association (BCA) Female Coach of the Year.

On the national awards front, Washington’s players have earned a host of national honors from All-America laurels to honors for community service and selflessness. Maggie Lucas finished her Penn State career as one of the most decorated student-athletes to pass through the Lady Lion program. Lucas was a two-time finalist for the Wade Trophy and Wooden Award, while earning nine All-American honors, including first team honors from the United State Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) in 2013 and 2014. She was a three-time AP All-American, garnering second team (2013), third team (2014) and honorable mention (2012) accolades during her career.

Alex Bentley was a two-time All-American, earning AP honorable mention laurels in 2013, and WBCA naming her honorable mention All-America in 2012 and 2013. One of the toughest defenders in the nation and a scoring threat from anywhere on the court, Bentley was the 2013 Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award winner as the nation’s top player under 5-foot-8.

Bentley and Lucas were both named to Freshman All-America teams during their rookie seasons of 2010 and 2011, respectively, while Tyra Grant was Washington’s first All-American, garnering honorable mention honors in 2010 from the Associated Press.

On-court accolades are not the only ones celebrated by the Lady Lion program, with Gizelle Studevent and Maggie Lucas each earning national attention for their off-court undertakings, as well. Studevent was a member of the 2013 Allstate WBCA Good Works Team, honoring student-athletes that have made outstanding contributions in the areas of volunteerism and civic involvement. Studevent was the lifeblood of the anti-bullying program Penn State Athletes Take Action (PSATA). Earning a selection to the 2014 Senior CLASS Award All-American Team, Lucas was one of 10 women’s basketball student-athletes to be celebrated for the award that is an acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School.

During her tenure at Notre Dame, Washington coached five All-Americans in her role as the guards coach, and was directly responsible for developing three All-Americans and two Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award winners: Niele Ivey and Megan Duffy. Washington also worked with Alicia Ratay, who is the NCAA’s career 3-point field goal percentage leader.

B1G Things Happening

In nine seasons on the sideline, Washington has seen 15 players earn All-Big Ten laurels on 26 occasions, along with three earning Big Ten All-Freshman Team and Big Ten All-Defensive Team honors. Among the All-Big Ten honorees, four of Washington’s pupils account for nine first team selections and Penn State has seen multiple players earn all-conference in eight of her nine seasons on the sideline.

Earning Big Ten Player of the Year on two occasions (2013 & 2014), Maggie Lucas was also the 2011 Big Ten Freshman and Sixth Player of the Year. Lucas joins Alex Bentley as three-time All-Big Ten first team selections under Washington, while Tyra Grant (2009 & 2010) and Ariel Edwards (2014) round out the group of first teamers.

Dara Taylor became the first Lady Lion under Washington to win the Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year, claiming the award in 2014, while also getting the nod to the All-Defensive Team in 2013. Alex Bentley was also a two-time Big Ten All-Defensive Team choice (2012 & 2013), while Nikki Greene earned her selection to the squad for her shot blocking prowess in 2011.

In 2016, Penn State placed three players on the All-Big Ten team, highlighted by freshman Teniya Page's selection to the All-Big Ten second team. Her second team selection makes her just the third Penn State rookie to earn either first or second team honors at season's end, joining Lucas (2nd Team, 2011) and Kelly Mazzante (1st Team, 2001). Adding to the haul of all-conference honors were Brianna Banks and Lindsey Spann, each earning honorable mention selections.

During Washington's first Big Ten Championship run in 2012, her squad put five players on the All-Big Ten squad. Bentley and Lucas each earned first team honors that season, and Greene, Zhaque Gray and Mia Nickson all noted honorable mention accolades. Both the 2011 and 2014 teams placed four players on the All-BIG squads, with the 2016 team joining the 2008 and 2013 teams that each had three representatives.

Washington is a stout believer in getting her best players on the floor regardless of position or class, with three student-athletes earning a spot on the Big Ten All-Freshman squad. Bentley (2010) and Page (2016) were both unanimous all-rookie picks, and Lucas secured a spot on the 2011 list.

The success of her student-athletes isn't confined to the hardwood, as the Lady Lion program has 42 Academic All-Big Ten honorees over her nine seasons. The 2015 squad set a school record with seven honorees on the list, while her 2009 and 2013 teams each saw six honorees for academic success.

Play to Your Strengths

Washington's style of play lends itself to being up-tempo and high scoring, which has enabled the program to rise to new heights and return to the national spotlight. As a member of the Big Ten Conference, her teams are playing one of the toughest conference slates in the country, but that doesn't stop Washington from scheduling key non-conference games against the nation's best teams – home and on the road.

In each of Washington's first six years, Penn State improved its Big Ten win total and the Lady Lions posted three consecutive 25-win seasons, joining the 1993-94, 1994-95 and 1995-96 squads as the only teams in program history to accomplish the feat.

During Washington's first nine seasons, Penn State has toppled ranking opponents in seven of those seasons; winning multiple games against ranked foes during each of those campaigns. Her first season in Happy Valley included wins over No. 20 Pittsburgh and No. 10 Duke. The 2011-12 squad traveled to No. 16/13 Texas A&M for a top-20 showdown with the Aggies and walked away with a 63-58 victory to snap a 58-game non-conference home court winning streak for TAMU.

The 2016 squad also had its share of success against ranked opponents, pushing No. 4 Tennessee to the brink in an early season road test, before opening the Big Ten schedule with a 79-72 victory over then-No. 14 Northwestern at the Bryce Jordan Center. Avenging an earlier loss to Michigan State, Penn State traveled to East Lansing and handed the then-No. 15 Spartans a 65-61 defeat in front of a national television audience on the Big Ten Network.

The Penn State record books have also been invaded by Washington's teams and student-athletes.

Teniya Page was a catalyst on the court in 2015-16, as she was the only freshman in the NCAA to average at least 15 points and four assists per game. She became just the third rookie in Penn State history to reach the 400-point and 100-assist mark – and first since Suzie McConnell (1984-85).

After reaching the 10-point mark in each of her first eight career games in 2014-15 – a feat not accomplished by Penn State's top two career scoring leaders – Kelly Mazzante and Maggie Lucas – Lindsey Spann moved her name into elite company on Penn State's 3-point list. Spann enters the season ranked No. 14 on the career charts with 102 shots made from distance.

Maggie Lucas finished her career second in school history and fourth in Big Ten history in scoring (2,510) and broke the Penn State and Big Ten records for career 3-pointers made (365) and career free throw percentage (.907). Lucas left Penn State ranked among the top-five on 25 different single season or career charts.

Nikki Greene became the first player in school history to accumulate 1,000 points, 900 rebounds and 200 blocks, while Alex Bentley is one of only two players (Suzie McConnell) in program history with 1,500 points, 500 assists and 250 steals. Brianne O'Rourke closed out her career as an All-Big Ten performer and left Penn State as one of just six players in school history with 1,000 points and 500 assists.

On the team side of things, the 2013-14 graduating class of Maggie Lucas, Ariel Edwards, Dara Taylor and Talia East produced 101 wins, which are the second-most wins by a senior class in Lady Lion history.

The 2010-11 team was a dominating force from the perimeter as the Lady Lions tied the school record with 228 3-pointers and led the NCAA from deep with a .415 3-point field goal percentage.

Double Domer

Washington was a four-year starting point guard for Notre Dame under McGraw and was the team captain on Notre Dame's first-ever NCAA Tournament team. She was a two-time All-Midwestern Collegiate Conference (MCC) selection and led the Irish to three MCC Tournament titles. Washington led the team in steals in each of her four seasons and was tops on the squad in assists three times. Washington is first on UND's all-time steals per game list (2.7), third in career steals (307), and sixth in assists (554).

The epitome of a student-athlete, Washington graduated from Notre Dame in 1992, a full year ahead of schedule, with a bachelor's degree in history. She went on to attain "Double Domer" status in 1997 after earning her Juris Doctorate from the Notre Dame Law School.

The Consummate Professional

Washington juggled finishing her law degree with the start of her professional basketball career, returning to the hardwood as a professional in 1997-98 with the ABL's Portland Power before spending a two-year stint with the WNBA's New York Liberty (1998-99).

Moving to Houston in 2000, Washington played an instrumental role in leading the Comets to the WNBA title. Her solid season in 2001 with the Comets for Hall of Fame coach Van Chancellor, saw her finish ninth in the WNBA in assists and fourth in steals as Houston earned its fifth consecutive playoff berth. Washington's started the 2002 campaign in Houston before being traded to the Indiana Fever at the midway point of the season. Washington guided the Fever to their first-ever playoff berth, helping her become the first player in WNBA history to lead three different teams to the postseason. She retired from the WNBA in 2003 as a member of the Fever.

Utilizing her law degree, Washington was a central figure in helping create the WNBA Players Association (WNBPA), serving as the founding president of the WNBPA from 1999 until 2001. She also served as the Executive Vice President of the WNBPA from 2001 until her retirement in 2003. Washington led negotiations for the association's first collective bargaining agreement as the association's president, and as the executive vice president was a mainstay in the negotiations for the league's second collective bargaining agreement, which brought about the first free agency system in women's professional sports.

A native of Flint, Michigan, Washington was inducted into the Greater Flint Area Sports Hall of Fame in December 2009.

Serving the Community

Be it on the hardwood, on the golf course, or out on a speaking engagement, Washington is among the most active Penn State coaches in the community. Her annual efforts include Coquese’s Drive for the Centre County Women’s Resource Center, championing the fight against breast cancer for Penn State Play4Kay game and supporting her team during their many hours of giving back to the Centre region.

One of the first relationships that Washington established in State College was with the Executive Director of the Centre County Women’s Resource Center, Ann Ard. The relationship grew quickly, with the focus shifting to helping the local non-profit find a way to raise funds and provide resources in the fight against domestic violence. In its nine years, Coquese’s Drive has raised more than $170,000 to benefit the CCWRC.

While the event that has spread nationally, Penn State women’s basketball were trendsetters in spreading awareness for breast cancer by being the first team in the country to wear pink uniforms. Washington has embraced Pink Zone at Penn State and helped it grow into an annual “can’t miss” event for survivors and supporters alike. During her tenure, Washington has seen their Play4Kay game grow in both attendance numbers and funds raised. The 698 survivors at the 2014 game are the most in program history, while the $310,000 raised that year are a benchmark for years to come.

Along with her community involvement, Washington has appointed Miriam Powell as the Director of Community Outreach for the Lady Lion program. Powell has been charged with creating powerful and impactful relationships for the women’s basketball program within the Penn State and surrounding communities, through service and volunteerism. This role was created by Washington to make sure the Lady Lions are serving those who spend much of their own time supporting Lady Lion Basketball on the floor and in the classroom.

The Personal Side

Washington and her husband, Raynell Brown, have a son, Quenton (11), and a daughter, Rhaiyna (7). Raynell is an Adjunct Professor of Law at Penn State Law School and is a former partner at Hicks & Brown Sports Agency, where he represented athletes in the NFL, FIBA, NBA, and WNBA. They reside in Port Matilda.

ITORO COLEMAN

Assistant Coach • Third Season (Sixth Overall)
B.A. in Speech and Communication • Clemson '00

Ito (E-tore-uh) Coleman enters year six with the Lady Lion program and takes the reins as position coach for the wing players, while also serving as Penn State's defensive coordinator. In addition, Coleman will play a significant role in all recruiting efforts, opponent scouting and community outreach activities. Her enthusiasm and passion for the game shines through on a coaching staff dedicated to growing well rounded student-athletes and prepares them for the ups and downs of college basketball.

Coleman was a member of Washington's initial Penn State staff and spent three seasons in Happy Valley before returning to her alma mater, Clemson, as head coach from 2010-13. She rejoined the Penn State staff prior to the 2014-15 season, returning to work as Penn State's recruiting coordinator and posts coach. She immediately impacted the Lady Lion's national recruiting efforts, helping Penn State secure a top-25 recruiting class for the third time in her Penn State career.

During the 2014-15 campaign, Coleman spearheaded the recruitment of the No. 15 class in the country according to ESPN.com/HoopGurlz. The 2015 recruiting class featured a pair of five-star guards in Amari Carter and Teniya Page, and also touted two highly recruited post players, Ashanti Thomas and Jaylen Williams. Each of those players hail from a different state; Illinois (Page), Kentucky (Thomas), Massachusetts (Williams) and Washington, D.C. (Carter), adding to an already diverse roster.

While coaching the post players the past two seasons, Coleman helped develop her unit into one of the most athletic corps in the Big Ten. The 2015-16 season saw the emergence of Peyton Whitted as one of the top rebounders in the conference. Whitted posted career bests in nearly every statistical category and posted her first seven career double-doubles – including three such efforts in the first four games. Her 256 rebounds last season come in at No. 21 on the single season charts, while her per-game average of 9.3 points and 8.3 rebounds more than doubled her career averages entering the year.

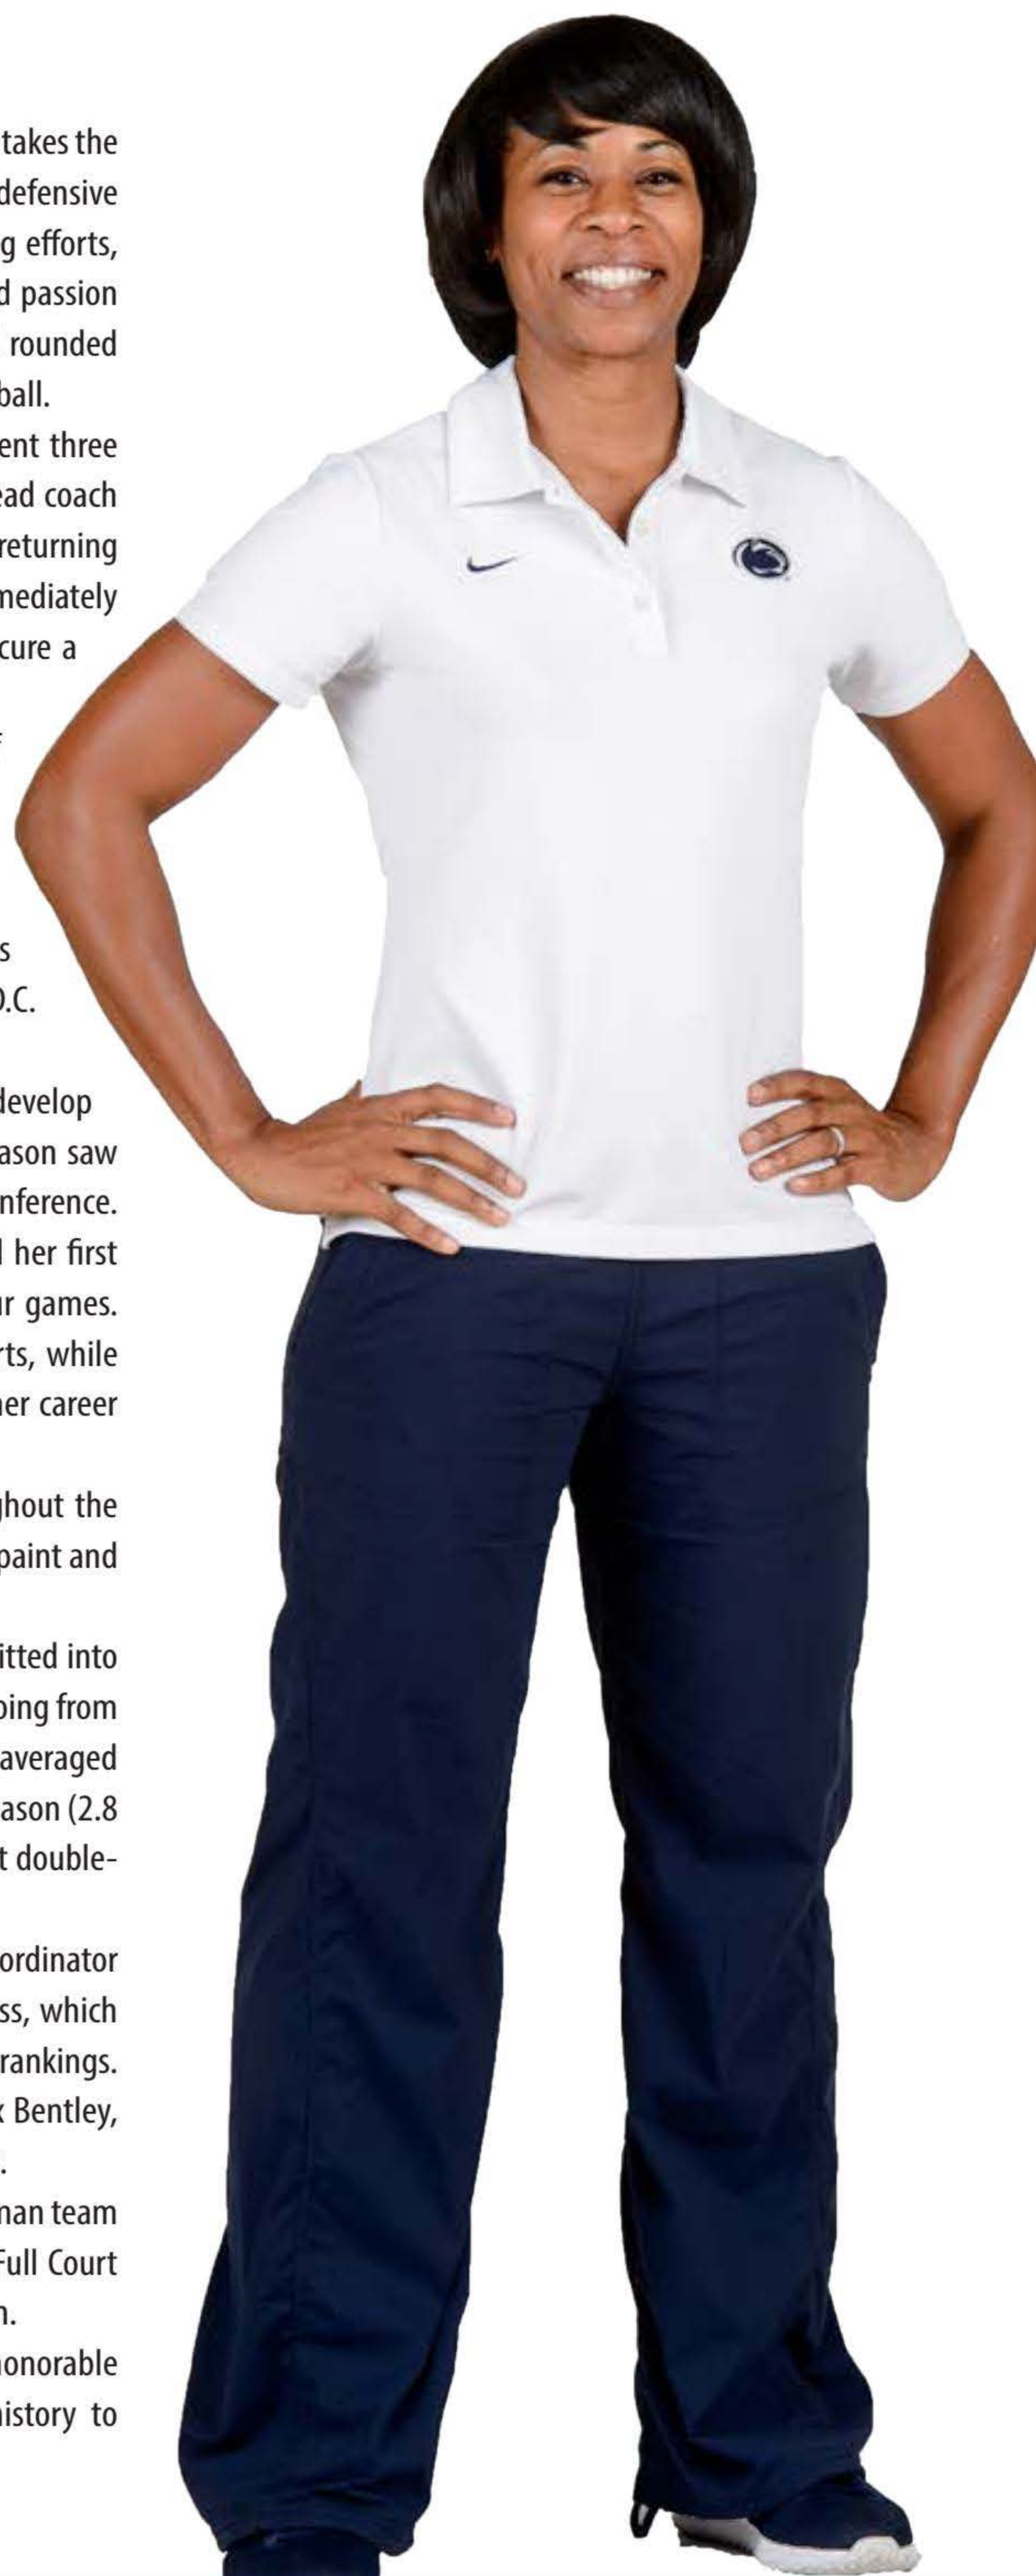

Along with Whitted, Thomas and Williams each showed growth throughout the season, while Kaliyah Mitchell continued to be a solid performer both in the paint and on the perimeter, averaging 5.2 rebounds and 9.5 points per game.

During the 2014-15 season, Coleman turned both Candice Agee and Whitted into reliable competitors. Agee increased her scoring and rebounding averages, going from 3.1 points and 2.3 rebounds per game to 10.6 and 6.1, respectively. Whitted averaged more than one rebound more per contest from her freshman to sophomore season (2.8 to 4.1) and ticked up from 2.9 to 5.1 points per game, including four straight double-figure scoring efforts during Big Ten play.

During her first stint at Penn State, Coleman served as the recruiting coordinator and guards coach. She was instrumental in the recruitment of the 2009 class, which ranked 14th by ESPN/HoopGurlz and the 2010 class, which sat 22nd in the rankings. Those classes featured All-Big Ten performers and future WNBA players Alex Bentley, Nikki Greene and Maggie Lucas, along with all-conference pick Ariel Edwards.

During the 2009-10 season, Coleman guided Bentley to Big Ten All-Freshman team accolades, as well as All-Big Ten third team honors. Bentley also garnered Full Court Press Freshman All-America third team accolades during her rookie campaign.

Additionally, Coleman led All-Big Ten performer Brianne O'Rourke to an honorable mention berth in 2008-09. O'Rourke was one of six players in school history to accumulate 1,000 points and 500 assists in her career.

COACHES & STAFF

In her first season at Penn State, Coleman was instrumental in the development of O'Rourke and Mashea Williams. The duo each registered career-high performances in the upset win over 10th-ranked Duke. The pair also combined to outscore the entire Michigan State team in the second half (24-21) in a key road win for the Lady Lions on national television. Coleman also guided O'Rourke to All-Big Ten third team honors as she led the conference and was 51st nationally in assists in 2007-08.

While at the helm of Tigers, Coleman recruited a pair of top-30 classes, including signing the No. 14 player in the country in the 2012 class. In 2012, the Tigers broke the school record for blocked shots with 168 rejections, which was fourth nationally. Coleman and the Tigers topped No. 21 North Carolina, 52-47, in 2012 to give Clemson its first win over a nationally ranked team in eight years.

"Ito is an outstanding coach in all areas and I am fortunate to have her on staff. She is passionate about impacting the lives of our players and gives tirelessly of herself on and off the court. Her energy and enthusiasm for the game is truly outstanding and so infectious. Most significantly, Ito is a tremendous teacher of the game and I am really thrilled to have her working with the wings again."

Also serving as an assistant coach for the Tigers, Coleman developed two All-ACC guards in Chrissy Floyd and Lakeia Stokes. The pair also earned Kodak Regional All-America accolades. Coleman also helped Clemson secure its first nationally-ranked recruiting class in 2003-04.

Coleman garnered the commitment and signing of South Carolina's Player of the Year, LeLe Hardy, who went on to earn All-ACC Rookie team honors, as well as All-America accolades in 2006-07. Hardy led the ACC and was fifth in the NCAA in assists in 2006-07. Coleman was also responsible for recruiting Christy Brown, an ACC All-Rookie team selection, and D'Lesha Lloyd and Tasha Taylor, who were Clemson's top two scorers in 2006-07.

Prior to her time at Clemson, Coleman served as an assistant coach at Butler from 2000-02 and had a stint as a student assistant coach at Liberty University for the 1999-2000 season.

As a player for Clemson, Coleman garnered Kodak District II All-America accolades, defensive All-America honors and was named an honorable mention Associated Press All-America in her senior season. Coleman – a three-time All-ACC performer – led Clemson to ACC Tournament championships in 1996 and 1999, claiming Tournament MVP honors in 1999. She ranks in the Top 10 in Tiger history with 1,409 points, 459 assists and 265 steals. Coleman was also selected to the ACC's 50-year Anniversary Team in 2002 and to the Silver Anniversary team that recognized the top players in ACC Tournament history.

Coleman was inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame as a member of the Class of 2008 along with her former head coach Jim Davis and six other Tiger athletic standouts.

Coleman continued her career after college in the WNBA, playing for the Indiana Fever in 2001 and the Houston Comets in 2003. She also participated in the Pan Am Games for Team USA, as well as several appearances in international competition as a member of the Nigerian National Team, including the 2006 FIBA World Championships where she led the world tournament in assists. Coleman accounted for 15 points with four 3-pointers against the Team USA juggernaut at the FIBA World Championships. Coleman also played in the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece where she captained the Nigerian National Team to its first-ever Olympic win.

Coleman earned her bachelor's degree in speech and communication from Clemson in 2000. She and her husband, Harold, have three daughters, Jada (12), Jordyn (7), Jasmine (6), and one son, Harold (Dutch) III (4).

TAMIKA JETER

Assistant Coach • First Season
B.A. in Interpersonal Communication • Connecticut '02

A two-time national champion and a seven-year veteran of the WNBA, Tamika Jeter (jet-ur) begins her first season as a member of the Lady Lion program. Jeter will coach the Lady Lion post players, take a leading role in opponent scouting, assist in all aspects of recruiting, and serve as special situations coordinator.

The former Tamika Williams began her collegiate coaching career while still playing professionally and lands in Happy Valley with 10 years of experience on the sideline, including six seasons at Ohio State (2003-08), two at Kansas (2009-10) and, most recently, two years at Kentucky (2015-16), all as an assistant coach.

In her 10 years on the bench, Jeter has not missed the postseason, helping the Buckeyes to six-straight NCAA Tournament appearances, aiding the Wildcats to a pair of NCAA berths, and assisting the Jayhawks to two WNIT appearances, including the 2009 WNIT championship game.

Jeter's impact on the University of Kentucky program was felt during her two seasons in the Bluegrass State. During her time in Lexington, the Wildcats finished in the AP Top 25 twice, reached the NCAA Tournament both seasons and advance to the Sweet 16 in 2016.

Kentucky's play was vastly improved under her tutelage, with freshman Alexis Jennings earning SEC All-Freshman Team honors in 2015 and junior Evelyn Akhator garnering 2016 second team All-SEC laurels. After three solid seasons, Azia Bishop posted career highs in a number of categories during the 2014-15 campaign. She led the team with a 54.3 percent shooting clip and 53 blocked shots, while she added 5.5 rebounds and 6.3 points per game – all career highs.

She also helped mold Linnae Harper, Maci Morris and Jenn O'Neill into all-conference performers. Harper garnered SEC All-Defensive Team honors in 2015, while Morris was a SEC All-Freshman Team pick in 2016, starting every game for the Wildcats and averaging 8.6 points per game. Morris also hit at least one 3-pointer in 21 of Kentucky's 27 games in 2015-16.

O'Neill thrived under Jeter's watch, averaging 14.0 points per game in 2014-15 to lead the team. She earned SEC 6th Woman of the Year – becoming the only player in SEC history to win the honor twice – and was a second-team All-SEC pick by the coaches and a honorable-mention All-SEC selection by the Associated Press. She became the 30th member of the UK 1,000-point club, ending her career ranked No. 12 on the Wildcats career scoring charts.

During her time in Lawrence, Kansas, Jeter tutored Krysten Boogaard and Carolyn Davis to All-Big XII honors, with both student-athletes ending their careers as members of the KU 1,000-point club.

Boogaard enjoyed two solid seasons at center for the Jayhawks. In her career, she swatted 105 shots, secured 584 rebounds and tallied 1,051 points.

Davis excelled under the guidance of Jeter, earning 2010 Big XII All-Rookie honors. The foundation laid during her rookie season helped Davis to a breakout sophomore season, when she ranked second nationally in field goal percentage (.660), while averaging 19.0 points and 7.4 rebounds per game.

In six seasons at Ohio State, Jeter helped the Buckeyes program return to prominence. She spent one season as a graduate assistant (2002-03) before moving into a full time role from 2004-08. The Buckeyes made six straight trips to the NCAA Tournament, won four consecutive Big Ten Championships and Jeter saw four of her student-athletes selected in the WNBA Draft. Courtney Coleman (2003), Jessica Davenport (2007), Jantell Lavender (2011) and Debbie Merrill (2006) all heard their names called on draft night.

Among her pupils in Columbus, Davenport became the only three-time unanimous Big Ten Player of the Year selection (2005, 2006 & 2007) and was the Buckeyes first three-time All-American honoree. She ended her career at Ohio State having amassed 2,303 points, 1,094 rebounds and 384 blocks – the first Big Ten player to reach 2,000 points, 1,000 rebounds and 300 blocks in a career. Davenport also ended her career as the top shooter in school history, connecting on 60.4 percent of her shots from the field.

Remarkably, Lavender one-upped Davenport by earning Big Ten Player of the Year honors all four seasons, winning the award outright in 2009 and 2010, while earning Co-Player of the Year honors in 2008 and 2011. She was the first Big Ten freshman – male or female – to win Player of the Year honors and earned honorable-mention Associated Press All-American. She ranked second in the NCAA in freshman scoring (17.6 ppg) and third in rebounds (9.9 rpg), recoding 13 double-doubles in 2007-08. Lavender set OSU rookie records for field goals made (232) and rebounds (306) in a season and her 17.6 points per game are No. 2 on the freshman charts.

Of the Buckeyes’ six NCAA Tournament appearances during her time there, Jeter was instrumental in helping the team advance past the first round on four occasions, including a Sweet 16 appearance in 2005. OSU received a six seed or better in five of her six trips to the NCAA Tournaments, including a No. 1 seed in the 2005 tourney.

“Tamika is an energetic, experienced teacher, and is a proven winner. She has quickly built a strong rapport with our players which will allow her to get their maximum effort on the court and be an influential role model off the court. Under her tutelage, I am confident that our post corps will become one of the best in the country.”

- COQUESE WASHINGTON

Between coaching at Kansas and accepting her post at Kentucky, Jeter moved to Texas and began working in the private sector. She continues to own a Nationwide Insurance agency. During her break from coaching she also served as an analyst for ESPN’s women’s basketball coverage. Other off-court activities include serving as an ambassador for Women & Girls Against HIV/AIDS, a U.S. State Department Sports Ambassador and traveling internationally with NBA Global, promoting the game of basketball.

Jeter excelled on the professional hardwood after being selected with the No. 6 overall pick in the 2002 WNBA Draft by the Minnesota Lynx. She spent seven seasons among the professional ranks – retiring in 2008 – earning WNBA All-Rookie team honors in 2002 and helping her team reach the playoffs on three occasions. She netted 1,404 points, secured 1,166 rebounds, handed out 221 assists and added 183 steals in her professional career.

As a student-athlete at the University of Connecticut, Jeter won a pair of national titles and was a two-time All-American for the Huskies. Her 2000 and 2002 NCAA Championship teams are both a members of the Huskies of Honor program, which is used by the University of Connecticut’s basketball programs in lieu of a traditional hall of fame.

She was The Sporting News National Freshman of the Year, 1999 BIG EAST Rookie of the Year and ECAC Rookie of the Year honors in 1999. Her sophomore season included being named the Most Outstanding Performer of the 2000 BIG EAST Tournament and the 2000 NCAA Championship. As a junior, she became the 19th player in UConn history to eclipse 1,000 points, and her senior season was capped off by another NCAA Championship and an undefeated 35-0 record. She received AP All-America honorable mention honors and was a Naismith Player of the Year candidate during the 2001-02 season.

She completed her collegiate career with averages of 10.6 points and 5.8 rebounds per game. She owns the NCAA record in field goal percentage at 70.3 percent (560-for-797) and ended her career ranked No. 14 on UConn’s all-time scoring list with 1,402 points.

A Dean’s List student, she served as the president of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee while earning B.A. in interpersonal communications from the University of Connecticut.

After being heavily recruited by almost every major college basketball program in the country, she chose to play at Connecticut, where she and her classmates (Asjha Jones, Swin Cash and Sue Bird) were tabbed by Sports Illustrated the “best recruiting class of 1998.”

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Jeter was the No. 1-ranked player in the nation coming out of Chaminade-Julienne High School. A prep standout, she scored 2,015 points in her career and was the consensus High School Player of the Year in 1998. She was a two-time Ohio Player of the Year (1997, 1998) and earned Ohio Miss Basketball and WBCA All-America honors as a senior in 1998. She helped the Eagles to the first appearance in the OHSAA Division I Final Four, where CJHS finished runner-up to USA Today National Champion Pickerington Central.

The former Tamika Williams is married to former NBA player Richard Jeter. The couple has one son, R.J., born in 2015.

In her short time at Penn State, Wyatt has had a strong impact on Penn State's dynamic guard play and recruiting efforts.

Overseeing the guards, Wyatt has tutored Penn State's top scorer in each of her first two seasons. The 2015-16 campaign saw freshman Teniya Page earn Second Team All-Big Ten honors and become a unanimous Freshman All-Big Ten pick after averaging 15.3 points and 4.2 rebounds per game. Page became just the third rookie in Penn State history – and first since 1984-85 – to reach the 400-point and 100-assist marks as a freshman.

Lindsey Spann enjoyed another solid season on the court during her sophomore campaign, leading the team and ranking ninth in the Big Ten in 3-pointers made (65). In the process of knocking down 65 triples in 2015-16, Spann became just the 14th player in Lady Lion history to eclipse the century mark in 3-pointers made, sitting at 102 at season's end. Averaging 13.0 points and 2.5 assists, Spann earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors.

Wyatt's efforts with the guards was seen immediately in 2014-15, as Spann opened her career with eight straight double-figure scoring games – a feat not accomplished by Penn State's top two career scorers; Kelly Mazzante and Maggie Lucas. She became just the fifth freshman since 1980-81 to lead the team in scoring average, joining Lucas (2010-11), Tyra Grant (2006-07), Mazzante (2000-01) and Susan Robinson (1988-89). She finished the season ranked No. 7 on the Penn State freshman scoring list (384) and No. 6 on the freshman 3-pointers made list (37).

Before landing on the University Park campus, Wyatt spent four seasons (2010-14) on the Georgia State staff as an assistant coach. During her tenure with the Panthers, Wyatt coached Kendra Long, who was an All-Sun Belt third team selection and broke the Georgia State 3-point field goals made record for a season and a career. She was also instrumental in recruiting the top-ranked junior college player in 2012.

Prior to Georgia State, Wyatt served as an assistant coach for two seasons at East Carolina where she helped the Pirates to back-to-back Top 100 recruiting classes. In her first season at ECU, she coached three all-conference selections, one all-defensive team member and an all-freshman team choice. She also helped to sign the 55th-ranked point guard to the 2010 recruiting class.

In 2010, Wyatt and the Pirates registered 23 wins, which are the second-most in school history. It was also the first 20-win season for ECU since 1992. Additionally, the Pirates collected their first postseason win in school history with a thrilling 78-76 overtime win over Drexel in the WNIT.

Wyatt spent two seasons (2006-08) as a graduate manager at the University of Georgia under legendary coach Andy Landers. During her time at UGA, the Lady Bulldogs were 50-17 and earned two NCAA Tournament bids. She also acted as the co-camp director at Georgia.

She has a tremendous work ethic and is passionate about player development. She is outstanding at bringing out the best in our guards, as evidenced by the performances of Teniya Page and Lindsey Spann these past two years, and I am excited about what she will accomplish in her new role of recruiting coordinator.” .”

The Lady Lions took home their third consecutive Big Ten regular-season title after posting a 24-8 overall record and 13-3 mark in conference play. This was the first time in program history that Penn State won three straight conference regular-season titles (Big Ten or Atlantic 10). The senior class closed out an illustrious career with a 101-31 record, which is the second-most wins by a class in program history. Headlining the list was Maggie Lucas, who earned her second-straight Big Ten Player of the Year honor from the media, averaging 21.0 points and 4.2 rebounds per game. She once again claimed All-America accolades from the WBCA, USBWA and Associated Press. Lucas finished her career with 2,510 points, which ranked second in program history behind Kelly Mazzante. Lucas was the 21st overall selection in the 2014 WNBA Draft by the Phoenix Mercury. Ariel Edwards excelled in her senior season as she claimed first team All-Big Ten honors for the first time in her career after accounting for 15.7 points per game. She joined the elite 1,000-point club in the NCAA Tournament first round win over Wichita State. Fellow senior Dara Taylor showed off her prowess on both ends of the court and became the second Lady Lion to earn Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year honors (Tanisha Wright) after leading the conference in steals at a 2.7 per game clip. The final senior on the squad, Talia East, also garnered All-Big Ten honorable mention recognition.

Redshirt-freshman Lindsey Spann became just the fifth freshman since 1980-81 to lead the team in scoring average, joining Maggie Lucas (2010-11), Tyra Grant (2006-07), Kelly Mazzante (2000-01) and Susan Robinson (1988-89). Spann finished the season ranked No. 7 all-time on the Penn State freshman scoring list with 384 (13.2 ppg) and ranked No. 6 on the Penn State freshman 3-pointers made list with 37 made triples. Her scoring prowess helped her reach double-figure in scoring in each of her first eight career games, a feat not accomplished by Penn State's top two career scoring leaders, Kelly Mazzante and Maggie Lucas. Sierra Moore earned honorable-mention Big Ten honors from the media after averaging 12.1 points, 5.1 rebounds, 3.8 assists and 1.2 steals per game. As a team, Penn State placed a school-record seven student-athletes on the Academic All-Big Ten list.

2015-16

A young nucleus helped lead the Lady Lions to a 12-19 overall record and 6-12 mark in Big Ten play. Freshman guard Teniya Page became the third freshman in school history to lead the team in both scoring average (15.3) and assists (4.2). She was the only rookie nationally to average 15 points and four assists on the season. Page finished No. 4 on Penn State's rookie scoring charts (473) and No. 5 on the assists list (131). For her efforts, Page was a unanimous Big Ten All-Freshman selection and earned second team All-Big Ten honors from the conference coaches. Lindsey Spann continued to be a threat from long range, hitting 65 3-pointers to push her career total to 102 made triples. She became the 14th player in school history to eclipse the 100 3-pointers made mark. Spann and senior Brianna Banks each earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors. Peyton Whitted pulled down 256 rebounds to rank No. 21 on the all-time list and sit among the top rebounders in the Big Ten at 8.3 rebound per game. Penn State also averaged just 14.5 turnovers per game, the fifth lowest total in school history.

BREAKING IT DOWN

Penn State is poised to become just the 16th NCAA Division I women's basketball program to eclipse the 900-win mark this season.

Those wins have come as a member of two different conferences and as a non-affiliated program. The Lady Lions have called three different buildings home in their history. They've defeated teams from 31 different conferences and from different divisions.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Penn State's historic mission of teaching, research, and public service — launched under the most modest of circumstances more than 150 years ago — now reaches into virtually all parts of Pennsylvania. Consider, for example, that the University now has 24 campuses across the Commonwealth, putting a Penn State education within practical reach of nearly every Pennsylvanian. In fact, nearly 73 percent of Penn State's undergraduates are Pennsylvania residents.

Penn State is Pennsylvania's largest nongovernmental employer and has employees and expenditures in every one of its 67 counties. The University generates a total economic impact across the Commonwealth that surpasses $8.5 billion annually.

Part of that impact is derived from Penn State's research program, which brings more than $500 million in federal funds to Pennsylvania each year, and an additional $100 million from private industry.

Penn State's outreach and online programs — ranging from 4H to Cooperative Extension, from summer camps to public broadcasting — provide educational and service programs to more than a million Pennsylvania households annually.

The University's presence throughout Pennsylvania today contrasts sharply with its humble beginnings. Chartered as a college of scientific agriculture, the institution was located in rural Centre County after James Irvin, a partner in the Centre Furnace iron works (remains of which can be seen today along East College Avenue), offered to donate 200 acres of farmland for a campus.

Founding President Evan Pugh wanted the fledgling institution to embody a new approach to higher education that blended classical studies with subjects that had practical value. He joined similar visionaries in other states in convincing Congress to pass the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862. The act gave individual states tracts of federal land to sell; the proceeds supported colleges that agreed to include engineering, science and the liberal arts as well as agriculture in their course of studies. In 1863, the Pennsylvania legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. The lawmakers in effect bestowed on the privately incorporated college a public character. In return for state support, the institution assumed obligations of teaching, research and service that are normally associated with publicly owned land-grant universities in other states.

By the 1890s Penn State was making its mark. It ranked among the nation's 10 largest undergraduate engineering schools, a distinction it still holds. It established one of the nation's first collegiate agricultural experiment stations, and Professor Whitman Jordan's pioneering research on using fertilizers for soil enrichment had global impact on crop yields.

Penn State in 1871 became one of the first land-grant schools in the Northeast to admit women, graduated its first international student in 1890, and its first African-American student in 1905.

In the early 1900s, President Edwin E. Sparks supported a number of efforts to "carry the college to the people," as he liked to say. Technical institutes were established in various locations statewide for engineering education, beginning with an evening school in Allentown in 1910. In 1912, Penn State helped create a system of county agents in agriculture and home economics. Today, the Penn State World Campus, with its "anywhere, anytime" learning through the Internet, builds on that outreach tradition.

But undergraduate education remained foremost. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 students by 1936, including those attending several undergraduate centers that were created for students who, in the depths of the Great Depression, could not afford to leave their hometowns to get a college education. The centers offered the first year of baccalaureate studies and were the predecessors of today's statewide system of campuses. Thanks to this innovative approach to higher education, Penn State in the 1930s became Pennsylvania's largest single source of baccalaureate degrees, a distinction it holds to this day.

Following World War II, Penn State underwent unprecedented expansion, first to meet the needs of returning military veterans and later to accommodate the Baby Boom generation. Total enrollment at all Penn State campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

The University also emerged on the national scene as a research powerhouse in fields as diverse as dairy science, acoustics, psychology, and diesel engineering. The expansion of research went hand in hand with a steady increase in the number of graduate students. The University awarded its first graduate degree — a master’s degree in scientific agriculture — in 1862, and the Graduate School was established in 1922. But overall graduate enrollment remained modest until the 1950s, then swelled steadily. The Graduate School has awarded to date approximately 130,000 master’s, doctoral, and other advanced degrees.

WORLD'S LARGEST ALUMNI NETWORK

From a quiet gathering of alumni in a vacant Old Main classroom in 1870 to a powerful network of more than 176,000 members worldwide, the Penn State Alumni Association has been keeping alumni connected to the University and to each other for more than a century. It is the largest dues-paying organization of its kind in the world. Alumni Association members live in every county in Pennsylvania, every state in the United States, and in numerous countries around the world.

The mission of the Alumni Association is to connect alumni to the University and to each other, to provide valued services to members, and to support the University’s mission of teaching, research, and service.

Along with degree holding members, one out of every eight current Penn State students belongs to the Blue & White Society, the Alumni Association’s student membership contingent.

PRESIDENT ERIC J. BARRON

Patrick Mansell

Eric J. Barron took the helm of Pennsylvania's flagship public university on May 12, 2014, arriving from Florida State University, where he had been president for four years. No stranger to Penn State, he had served on the faculty of the College of Earth and Mineral Sciences from 1986-2002 and as dean of the college from 2002-06.

Dr. Barron returned to Penn State from his presidency at Florida State, bringing with him nearly 35 years of leadership experience in academic administration, education, research and public service, and a track record as a talented manager of fiscal policy within large and complex institutions. Dr. Barron led Florida State to two consecutive U.S. News and World Report rankings as the nation's "most efficiently operated" institution of higher education.

Dr. Barron earned a bachelor of science degree in geology at Florida State in 1973 before moving on to the University of Miami, where he earned master's and doctoral degrees in oceanography, in 1976 and 1980, respectively. Dr. Barron spent 20 years of his career at Penn State, serving as dean of the College of Earth and Mineral Sciences from 2002-06, and as founding director of the Earth System Science Center, one of the first major initiatives focused on the total study of Earth as a system, from 1986-2002. He also had a simultaneous appointment as director of the Earth and Mineral Sciences Environment Institute from 1998 to 2002. In 1999, he was named Distinguished Professor of Geosciences at Penn State, and during his tenure as director, Industry Week magazine ranked him among "50 R&D Stars to Watch."

An accomplished scientist with a long background in atmospheric research, Dr. Barron served as director of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR) from 2008-10 and as dean of the Jackson School of Geosciences at the University of Texas at Austin from 2006-08. Early in his career he was a postdoctoral research fellow and scientist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colorado, a federal research center focusing on atmospheric and related science issues. Over the decades, Dr. Barron has lent his significant expertise in the areas of atmospheric science and the geosciences to many national committees and federal organizations.

As leader of Penn State, Dr. Barron oversees a research enterprise of more than $800 million and 24 campuses, including two law schools and a College of Medicine in Hershey, Pa., as well as an internationally recognized online educational enterprise known as the World Campus. Penn State's current enrollment is approximately 98,000 students, and it boasts the world's largest dues-paying alumni association.

During his tenure as president of Penn State, Dr. Barron has made access and affordability; student engagement; economic development; job creation and student career success; technology and diversity and demographics priorities. His Invent Penn State initiative aims at ramping up investment in economic development and student career success. By leveraging the size and broad research strengths of the University, Dr. Barron has made it a goal that Penn State will be a driver for job creation, entrepreneurship, and economic development, and will accelerate the transfer of new ideas into useful products and processes that encompass a broad range.

Over the past year, Invent Penn State has resulted in the launch of 20 entrepreneurial centers and innovation hubs across Pennsylvania.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS SANDY BARBOUR

Sandy Barbour began her leadership of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program on August 18, 2014 and has quickly made a strong impression on one of the nation's most successful and comprehensive athletic departments. President Eric J. Barron named Barbour the Nittany Lions' ninth Director of Athletics after serving 10 years as Director of Athletics at the University of California.

Barbour brought to Penn State more than 30 years of varied experiences as a collegiate administrator and coach, with a demonstrated record of championships, academic success, innovation, facility modernization and revenue growth. She directs Penn State's 31-sport, broad-based program that supports approximately 800 student-athletes and an Intercollegiate Athletics staff of more than 300.

It did not take long for Barbour to begin implementing her vision for Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics and creating conditions for success for Nittany Lion student-athletes. In March 2015, she announced a reorganization of ICA that introduced a more vertical structure to encourage communication and collaboration across functional units and sports. Four administrative divisions were formed: student-athlete performance, health and welfare; internal and external operation, administration and business and finance.

Midway through 2015, Penn State Athletics launched a wide-ranging strategic planning process and conducted a series of town hall meetings. Students, faculty and staff, alumni, donors and the public were presented with some of the initial findings of the project and had an opportunity to provide feedback. The project will help determine strategies and priorities for the period of 2016-20 and beyond and be made public as 2016-17 commences.

One of the nation's most highly-respected athletic directors, Barbour also is overseeing a facilities master planning study that began in October 2015. Penn State partnered with Populous, one of the world's leading architecture and sport event planning firms, to collaborate on programming, developing and producing a comprehensive facilities master plan to provide a road map for addressing current and long-term needs for all of the Nittany Lions' facilities (competition, practice, performance enhancement and training) and office space. The study is expected to be completed early this fall.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AMONG RECORD-SETTING ACHIEVEMENTS

Penn State student-athletes have delivered record-setting academic performances during Barbour's initial two years, including three highest semester 3.0 grade-point average totals in school history. During the 2015 fall semester, a school record 516 Nittany Lions earned at least a 3.0 grade-point average, breaking the mark of 500 set the previous fall semester. Among the 516 students, a total of 234 garnered Dean's List honors for earning a 3.5 GPA or higher, the program's second-highest total (241 in 2014 fall semester).

A record-tying 23 teams earned a semester GPA of 3.0 or higher and combined for an overall 3.11 GPA last fall. The 516 student-athletes with a 3.0 GPA represented 63 percent of Penn State's 822 students enrolled during the 2015 fall semester.

Under Barbour's leadership, 13 Penn State squads earned perfect NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) scores of 1,000 in 2014-15, up from 10 the previous year. A school record 299 Penn State student-athletes garnered Academic All-Big Ten accolades in 2015-16, including record totals among the winter and spring/at-large sports. Four Nittany Lions were selected CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2015-16 and Penn State student-athletes combined to spend more than 8,000 hours involved in community engagement.

The first facility project completed under Barbour's direction is one she is particularly proud of — the conversion of the Greenberg Sports Complex to the new Morgan Academic Center. Advising, tutoring, computer labs, group study areas and meeting rooms for student-athletes previously were located in four separate locations on campus. The completion of the MAC provides a central and expanded academic and student welfare hub for Penn State's 800 student-athletes and will assist in keeping academic services and the academic performance of Nittany Lion student-athletes at the forefront among the nation's premier Division I institutions.

Early in her tenure at Penn State, Barbour made a gift of $100,000 for the Morgan Academic Center project, with a portion of her donation used to create a One Button production studio where students can record a speech or presentation and review it prior to delivering in class.

PAIR OF NCAA TITLES, FIVE BIG TEN CROWNS HIGHLIGHT 2015-16

In 2015-16, Barbour saw the Nittany Lions capture NCAA Championships in women's soccer and wrestling and five Big Ten titles in women's cross country, women's soccer and wrestling. The women's lacrosse team advanced to the NCAA semifinals for the first time since 1999 and was among six Nittany Lion programs that finished No. 6 nationally or higher in their respective NCAA Championship. Penn State student-athletes won four NCAA individual national championships and seven Big Ten individual crowns in 2015-16 and Raquel Rodriguez earned the MAC Hermann Trophy as collegiate soccer's top female player.

During Barbour's initial two years of leading Penn State Athletics, the Nittany Lions have captured NCAA Championships in women's soccer, women's volleyball and wrestling and won nine conference titles (8 Big Ten).

In December 2015, Forbes recognized Barbour twice among the top executives in sports. Barbour was named one of the Top 25 Most Powerful People in College Sports, ranking among six Athletic Directors and two female administrators on the list. Forbes said that Barbour "has developed a reputation for being one of the most forward thinking administrators in all of college sports."

Forbes also selected Barbour No. 11 among the Most Powerful Women in Sports. She was among four executives listed who work primarily in intercollegiate athletics and was the highest ranked Athletic Director — No. 2 overall in college sports.

Barbour began her tenure in Happy Valley with a pair of championships during the 2014 fall semester and two more titles in the spring. The women's volleyball team captured its second consecutive NCAA Championship and the women's soccer squad earned the Big Ten crown during the fall. In the spring, the men's gymnastics team earned the Big Ten title in front of an enthusiastic Rec Hall crowd, the women's lacrosse squad won the inaugural Big Ten Women's Lacrosse Tournament and the men's volleyball captured the EIVA title.

Penn State finished No. 8 in the 2014-15 Learfield Sports Directors' Cup standings to cap Barbour's first year. Twenty Nittany Lion squads competed in their respective NCAA Championships, the football team won the New Era Pinstripe Bowl, and 30 teams participated in post-season competition. Nine Penn State teams advanced to or finished in the Top/Elite 8 of their respective NCAA Championship in 2014-15. The Nittany Lions also captured individual NCAA titles in men's fencing, men's gymnastics and wrestling.

Penn State student-athletes delivered record-setting academic performances during Barbour's inaugural year, including the two highest 3.0 grade-point totals in a semester in school history at the time. During the 2014 fall semester, a school record 500 Nittany Lions earned at least a 3.0 grade-point average. Another mark was broken with 241 student-athletes garnering Dean's List honors by posting a GPA of 3.50 or higher. The 2014-15 academic year was punctuated with the selection of wrestling national champion Matt Brown as the CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year for all sports.

TEN YEARS OF CONSISTENT COMPREHENSIVE EXCELLENCE AT CAL

Serving as the Director of Athletics at Cal from 2004-14, Barbour guided the Golden Bears through one of the most successful periods in school history. Under her direction, the athletic department became one of the consistently elite programs in the country. Barbour's 10-year term as AD was the longest tenure for the department since men's and women's athletics merged into a single entity in 1992.

During her tenure overseeing Cal's 30-sport program, the Golden Bears won 20 team national championships, 97 individual national titles, finished in the top 10 in the annual Learfield Directors' Cup standings six times, including a program-best third in 2011, and reached record levels in ticket sales, sponsorships and fundraising.

Among Cal's many team athletic accomplishments under Barbour's leadership were a 2006 Pac-12 co-championship and seven bowl game invitations in football; the men's basketball team's first conference title in 50 years in 2009-10; a first-ever NCAA Final Four berth in women's basketball in 2013, two trips to the national semifinals in women's volleyball and six NCAA Championships in men's and women's swimming and diving.

Under Barbour's leadership, two major facility projects designed to benefit both student-athletes and fans opened. On Sept. 1, 2012, Cal welcomed a sold-out crowd to a newly restored California Memorial Stadium after the historic facility underwent a $321 million renovation and seismic retrofit to bring the facility up to modern standards while honoring the historic nature of the building.

In 2011, Cal opened the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance, a 142,000-square-foot state-of-the-art student-athlete training, coaching, and applied sports science and sports medicine center to support the daily needs of football and 12 Olympic sports programs. The Simpson Center represented the physical manifestation of Cal High Performance, a concept Barbour developed at Berkeley, which represents a seamless integration of all factors impacting a student-athlete's ability to success in the classroom and in their competitive venue.

Prior to her tenure at Berkeley, Barbour was the deputy director of athletics at Notre Dame, serving as the university's senior athletic administrator from July 2002 to September 2004. She previously held an associate athletic director position there starting in 2000.

In 1996, Barbour was appointed Tulane's director of athletics at age 36, and during her three years overseeing the program, Green Wave teams won 12 conference championships. In her first year in the position, the school captured four conference titles, a feat never before accomplished in Tulane history. She also hired Tommy Bowden as head football coach during her first year. Bowden proceeded in 1997 to post the Green Wave's first winning season (7-4) in 16 years, and then directed the school to a 12-0 record, a Conference USA championship and a No. 7 national ranking the following season as the 1998 Liberty Bowl champions. Barbour was recruited to Tulane as an associate athletic director in 1991.

Born in Annapolis, Md., Barbour grew up in a military family. Her father was a career aviator in the U.S. Navy, and her family lived in various U.S. locations as well as in Western Europe during her childhood.

Barbour graduated cum laude in 1981 with a B.S. degree in physical education from Wake Forest University, where she was a four-year letterwinner and served as captain of the field hockey team. She also played two seasons of women's basketball for the Demon Deacons.

Barbour earned advanced degrees at the University of Massachusetts (an M.S. in sports management in 1983) and Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management (an MBA in 1991). Barbour's career in intercollegiate athletics began as a field hockey assistant coach and lacrosse administrative assistant at Massachusetts in 1981.

Between master's programs, Barbour served as assistant field hockey and lacrosse coach at Northwestern from 1982-84. She also held the position of director of recruiting services during that period, before being promoted to assistant athletic director for intercollegiate programs in 1984, a position she held until 1989.

Prior to joining Tulane, Barbour worked in programming and production for FOX Sports Net in Chicago during the summer of 1990.

During her four-plus years as director of the McNamara Academic Center, Holleran supervised an academic support operation that served approximately 750 student-athletes in 25 varsity programs. Under Holleran's direction, she helped improve Minnesota's Academic Progress Rates (APR) to their highest

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

Penn State women's basketball team proudly boasts eight position endowed scholarships.

Helen "Choo" Chelius was a Penn State fan for more than 60 years. Her late husband Carl ('26) and son Carl ('73) both earned degrees from Penn State. In 1999, she made an incredible commitment to the program by endowing the first women's basketball position at Penn State. Chelius established the scholarship for the point guard position.

Adding to the Lady Lion tradition in 2000, John ('56) and Joanne Spangler endowed the Lady Lions' forward position, while Carl and Joyce Chelius endowed the shooting guard spot on the Lady Lion roster.

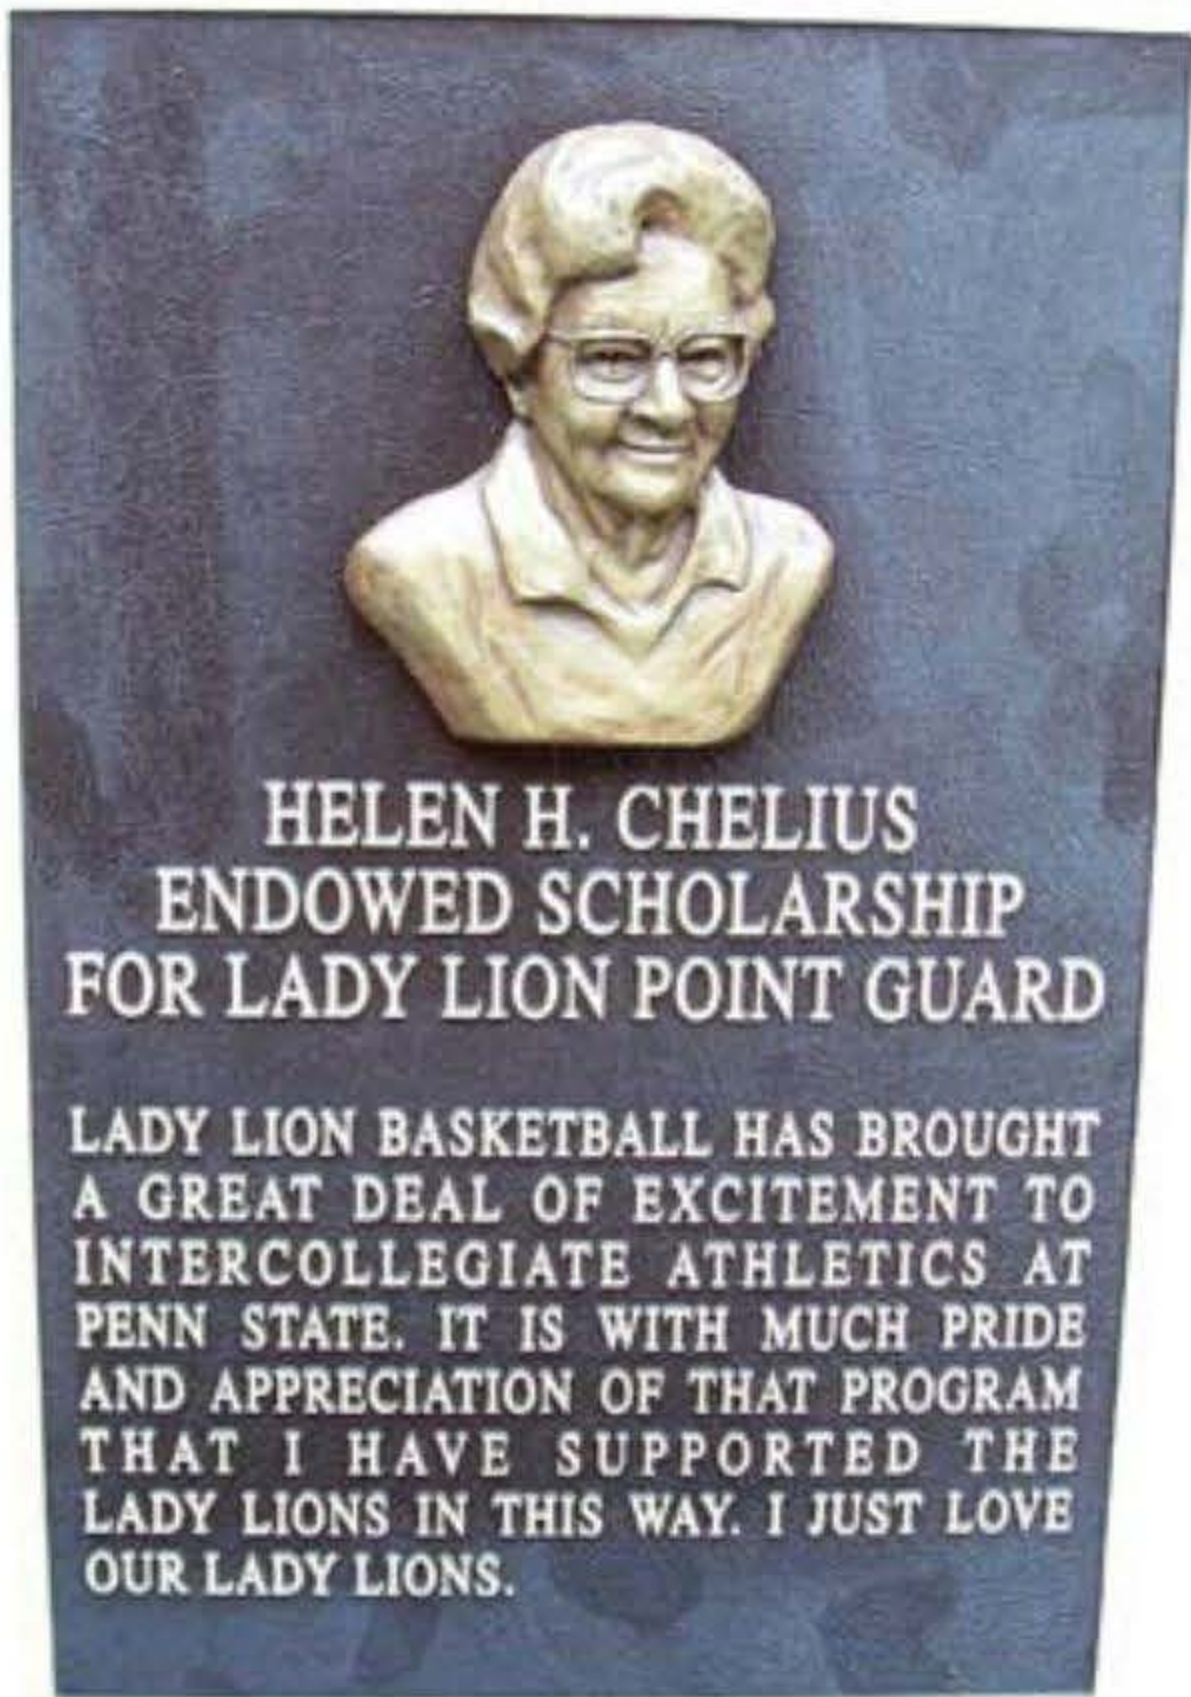

John and Ann Curley added to the number of endowed Lady Lion scholarships with the advent of their scholarship for a Lady Lion forward, while Nancy Dreibelbis endowed a scholarship for a Lady Lion point guard.

John and Jeanette McWhirter provided the most recent addition to the Lady Lion scholarship stable with the creation of the Maggie Lucas Scholarship for Lady Lion Shooting Guard in the spring of 2013.

Also, adding to the legacy of the Lady Lion program are James and Carol Kauffman, along with the Sokolov family. The Kauffman's endowed a scholarship for the power forward position, while the Sokolov's scholarship supports a Lady Lion small forward.

To be eligible for scholarships, students must have outstanding academic records and be proficient in women's basketball. Scholarships are awarded for one academic year with the possibility of renewal in subsequent years.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been a priority for every Big Ten member institution. But maintaining the conference's standard of competing at the highest level in athletics also endures as an important component of the Big Ten experience. Striking that balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its students not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

PREMIER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all 14 Big Ten universities, which is widely considered to be the model for effective and voluntary collaboration among top research universities.
